Let's Talk About Quilts (& Appraisals)

Remember to bring to the meeting

- Name tag (wear it)
- Library books, & DVDs
- QPC projects
- Bright Hopes quilts
- Smiles for everyone

Last month's presentation from Teresa Wong was very informative. I think anyone who listened to it will look at quilting fabric with new eyes. Cotton production has certainly come a long way in the last few years.

We are down to crunch time on quilts for the Show. I hope everyone was able to volunteer in some way – Janet and Jen certainly had us cornered! Remember, you get free parking as a boon. The potluck dinner on Thursday evening is open to all members (plus one). It's always fun to see who receives ribbons and to get a sneak peek at the set up. Plan on coming along.

Some of you may know this already but a long time member, recently lapsed, passed away in the spring. For many years Barbara Wofford was the guild hostess for our visiting teachers. She had a career as a home economics teacher and a special fondness for England. She almost always wore one of her lovely quilted jackets to the guild meetings.

From the Quilts Project Committee (QPC)...

QPC is the educational arm of the Guild, directed toward helping members improve their quilting skills. The committee selects patterns, compiles and distributes block kits and coordinates the completion of each project. Completed projects are for Auction or any other use determined by the Board.

Currently, our kits available for check out are: Stars-Block A; Stars-Block B; and Double Cross (aka Anita's Arrowhead). We plan on having another block available at the next guild meeting. We invite you to come by the QPC table and check out a block. You can return the completed block the following month and enter your name for the Golden Carrot prize. If you have any questions, any member of QPC will be happy to help you.

Must be quilt related.

8.19 Pieces of the Past, 112: The Women's Quilt by Ellen Hernandez

Roxanne Ellis, Labour and Cooperative Councillor for the Gedling Borough in England started what she calls “the most beautiful project should not exist.” Becoming aware of the large number of women killed from domestic violence and essentially forgotten, Ellis started The Women's Quilt Project to raise awareness not only of the deaths, but of the lives of the victims. A quilt square was made for each of the women who died in England and Wales from 2009 to 2015, approximately two women a week, for a total of 598 squares. The blocks vary in design with the use of pens, paint, applique, and embroidery.

Over 1500 men and women from around the world helped with the quilt, finishing in about three months. They researched the women which proved to be difficult as most written articles only discussed the perpetrators. For many who worked on a quilt, domestic abuse was an issue close to home. A young mother, Andrea, had seen her mother abused by her father and always felt guilty that she could not intervene as a child. With her own daughter, they each created a block and Andrea was able to discuss her experiences as they worked. Laura remembered a teacher who had been a support while at college, Julie Ann Semper. Creating the quilt brought together a sisterhood community, all proud to be a part of celebrating women.

On March 8th, 2017 the quilt was displayed in Parliament on International Women's Day. For this project, Ellis was acknowledged by Amnesty International as a Suffragette Spirit winner.

The 100" x 100" quilt was taken on tour to help raise funds for domestic violence. In August 2019 the quilt will be featured at The Festival of Quilts in Birmingham, Europe's leading patchwork and quilting event attracting over 25,000 people. It is hoped that the quilt will eventually reside at the Victoria and Albert Museum.

Ellis became interested in quilting when she and her mother visited a quilt show years ago. Besides quilting she likes to sew and knit. When elected in 2011 she was only 23. She is now serving her third term.

TEXAS QUILT MUSEUM
History in the Making

Summer exhibits feature Paula Nadelstern retrospective and fresh takes on the traditional!

LA GRANGE, TEXAS – June 4, 2019 – The Texas Quilt Museum will merge the fantastical with the traditional with its summer exhibits, featuring a free appearance and guest lecture by one of the art form's most noted names!

The works of Paula Nadelstern will be celebrated in "Symmetry and Surprise: Kaleidoscopic Quilts by Paula Nadelstern." Opening on June 13, the retrospective with 15 quilts of this artist's unique work is sure to delight the eye with its colorful and detailed images that bring to mind the wonders of the optical instrument.

Nadelstern will also make an appearance at the Museum and give a free lecture about her work and the exhibit on Saturday, June 29, at 3 pm. Museum admission is free beginning at 2 pm.

"As Paula has said, the word 'kaleidoscope' promises surprise and magic, change and chance. Paula Nadelstern's amazing quilts sparkle with these elements," says Museum Curator Dr. Sandra Sider. "Most of these works are quilted by hand, and several of them feature fabrics designed by the maker whose work was included in The Twentieth Century's 100 Best American Quilts. Come and enjoy the fascinating world of Paula's beautiful quilts!"

Kaleidoscopic XVIII: Chai (37" x 37") by Paula Nadelstern. From the exhibit "Symmetry and Surprise."

Paula Nadelstern gives a free lecture Sat., June 29, at 3 pm. Photo by Maria Barcellona.

On her website, Nadelstern expounds on her work. "Exploding with visual excitement, a kaleidoscopic design organizes an abundance of light and color, form and motion into a complex and coherent image," she writes.

"My goal is to harmoniously integrate the idea of a kaleidoscope with the techniques and materials of quilting. I try to free myself from a conventional sense of fabric orderliness, seeking a random quality in order to imitate the succession of chance interlinkings and endless possibilities synonymous with kaleidoscopes."

In addition to her award-winning quilts, Nadelstern is also a teacher, lecturer, author, and fabric designer. Find out more about her and her work at www.PaulaNadelstern.com

American flag, along with a graphically modern Yo-Yo quilt."

Also on display this summer is an exhibit that features contemporary interpretations of some of quilting's most traditional patterns, blocks, styles, and techniques. Opening on June 27, "In the American Tradition" features 31 works of breadth and diversity.

"Our exhibition includes works in traditional style, some with an original twist, such as a charming hankie appliqué quilted with hearts, an autumn-themed quilt with pumpkins on the bordering vine, a basket design with different flowers in each basket, and a Double Wedding Ring in brilliant neon hues," Dr. Sider says.

"Several showstoppers feature spectacular hand quilting, the technique dominating this exhibition. It also has an appealing pictorial quilt depicting four 18th-century women stitching the original

Summer Retreat 2019 was 6 awesome days of quilting held at Valley Ranch Retreat in Camp Wood, TX! There were many wonderful quilt tops displayed on the design boards throughout the week. Lots of quilters participated in the class projects - Janis Painter led the peek-a boo pouch class, Carol Steely taught the class for the zipper mesh bag, Janis Painter and Linda Casias led the super adorable tiny tote project, and Linda led the non-skid pedal pad class. It was so much fun seeing everyone's finished products! Several took advantage of the on-site body massages for a little extra pampering, and Linda facilitated stretches throughout the day to loosen up those tense shoulders. Let's not forget how convenient, and dangerous, it is to have a quilt store right upstairs!

The key that made this retreat so special was due to the wonderful group of ladies that attended this year's retreat. What a talented group! They were all so generous to share tips and techniques. It was so inspiring! A big thanks to the staff of Valley Ranch Retreat and a special thanks to the core team who worked so hard to put together this retreat - Sharon Ross (this year's chair), Beverly Taft, Janis Painter, Carole Wood, Carol Steely, Irma Paredes, Margie Swaney, and Linda Casias. Looking forward to next year with Linda Casias and Linda Maldonado, they will co-chair Summer Retreat 2020 at Camp Wood scheduled on June 14-19, 2020.

SILENT AUCTION DONATIONS WANTED! GREAT JOB LADIES!

Lots of items were donated at the last Guild Meeting. So many that I needed help carrying them to my car. We are up to 54 items; however we need many more. Keep those donations coming!

NOTE from IDA

This quilt guild has been dear to me for many years. When I remarried in 2016, I didn't ask you to remember my new last name--to change from Blankenship to Kujawski. Both are hard, so I continued to use Blankenship in the guild.

But after 3 years, maybe it will be easier for you. My official name on the Social Security card is Ida B. Kujawski. So let's change it here, too.

Kujawski has no silent letters. Or just call me Ida B.

Thanks,
Ida
