- Name tag (wear it)
- Library books, & DVD's
- QPC projects
- Bright Hopes quilts
- Smiles for your friends

Renew, renew! Now is the time to renew your membership in order to have your contact information in the guild directory. The dues you pay help the guild continue its mission to promote the art of quilting in the community.

Are you a new member? Have you met a new member? It behooves us all to take that first step toward fellowship by striking up a conversation with someone unfamiliar. There is at least one topic of mutual interest - quilting! Just take it from there and perhaps a new friendship will blossom.

The GSAQG Quilt Show takes place 22-23 September at the San Antonio Event Center, West 410 and Marbach. Quilt entry forms are available on the guild website - www.sanantonioquilt.org. This is a judged show. If you have never had a quilt judged, please do not fear! It is always enlightening to read the judge's remarks, even if you disagree. Taking those remarks and learning from them will make you a better quilter.

Carol Bryant is this year's Show chair. She and her committees will be wanting volunteers for all sorts of things. Find the spot or spots on the sign-up sheets that you can commit to. Sell tickets, sell ads, pass out bookmarks, put up posters, spread the word. Let's make this a stupendous success!

And speaking of success, would you consider being chair or co-chair of the 2018 Auction? Yes, it takes work and time but it is well worth it. Please give it some thought.

May your needle be sharp and not your tongue, may your bobbin be full as well as your heart. See you at the meeting! - - Mary

New members receive their guild pins.

In the Round: Quilts with Radial Symmetry by Ruth Artler Felty

The exhibit features nine examples of Radial Symmetry. The designs are created by using similar parts regularly arranged around a central point or axis. In some quilts, the radiating parts are exhibited in units or blocks; in others the entire art quilt shows this relationship. This use of formal balance helps create harmony and elegance in these works of art.

Exhibit dates: Jan. 4 - March 30, 2017

2.17 Pieces of the Past, 82: Kumihimo, by Ellen Hernandez

Kumihimo is the Japanese art (some say originally from China and Korea) of 'gathering of threads.' Similar to lacemaking, weighted bobbins of silk thread overhang from a bamboo stand to create a braid. Patterns are determined by lifting and crossing various bobbins in sequences, using from 8 to 42 bobbins. Specific colors and patterns might indicate wealth, social status, or gender. The colors lilac, magenta, blue, green, gold and orange were considered by the Japanese to protect them from bad luck and to banish evil spirits.

Braids were used to secure clothing and can be dated to 645 AD. Buddhist monks made complex braids to decorate temples, perhaps as a form of meditation. Samurai armor plates were held together with an average of 300 yards of kumihimo braids.

As an important part of the traditional tea ceremony, kumihimo braids were tied in decorative knots around tea containers to prevent anyone from poisoning the tea.

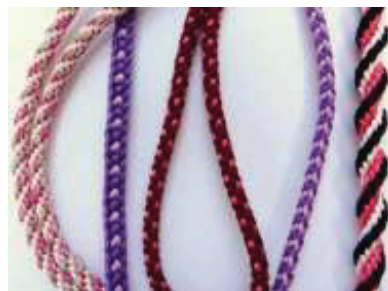

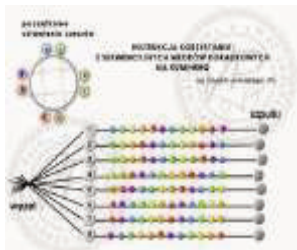

When Kimonos were introduced their wide obi sash was held in place with a braid called obijime. Construction of traditional handmade braids decreased after the end of the samurai. Also affecting handcraft was the development of braid making machines using inexpensive synthetic thread.

Today handmade kumihimo has re-emerged as Japanese traditional schools have begun teaching the skill, even keeping many of their patterns secret. The pattern sheets look similar to a musical score and contain as many as 400 steps. Any mistake must be undone which can take enormous dedication and practice. Interestingly, the most difficult pattern is said to be one made with only 4 bobbins.

Makiko Tada invented the foam disk for braiding which is inexpensive and easy to use. This made braid making more popular for today's market of jewelry, hair bows, and embellishments. Threads now commonly used are bamboo, satin, rayon, nylon, and silk. There are lightweight and heavyweight threads to choose from. Adding beads and jewels is quite popular today. Disks and threads are easy to find, even from Walmart.

GSAQG Board Meeting Minutes

Jan 2, 2017

Mary McCarthy, President, called the meeting to order at 2:35 pm. In attendance were Virginia Oehlke, Elaine Staller, Ina Ramirez, Janet Miller, Letty Zavala, Patricia Alva, Cindy Shutt, Sylvia Jolet, and Lyn Komada.

A motion was made to approve the December board minutes; the motion was seconded, and the motion carried.

A motion was made to give a calico rose to Lisetta Ennis at the January meeting for her work on the Guild Memorial Quilt; the motion was seconded, and the motion carried.

A motion was made that if a board member misses more than 3 consecutive board meetings or 4 board meetings within 6 months they are removed from the board; the motion was seconded, and the motion carried.

A motion was made that guild fabric policy be accepted as corrected; the motion was seconded, and the motion carried. The corrected fabric policy is:

1. All guild fabric, unless assigned to Bright Hopes (juvenile themed fabric) and Community Quilt Angels (patriotic themed fabric) will be the responsibility of the President Pro-Tempore.
2. A Fabric Coordinator, under the President Pro-Tempore, will make a determination on acceptance of any donated fabric. Donated fabric can be assigned to a specific committee, placed in the Guild fabric, placed on the free table for Guild members or passed onto another charitable organization. The Guild Board could direct the Fabric Coordinator to sell the fabric to Guild members if the donation is large enough.
3. Guild fabric can be used by any Guild member for Guild projects. Chairs of the following committees have access to the guild fabric at any time: Bright Hopes, Community Quilt Angels, QPC, Auction, and QFPC. Any other committee chair, retreat chair, or bee will contact the Fabric Coordinator for access to the Guild fabric.
4. Any fabric on the shelf of a committee will belong to that committee. The fabric may not be removed unless specific permission from the committee chair is received.

Member survey results were discussed. Board members with committees have distributed (or will shortly) the list of interested volunteers from the member survey to appropriate committees under them.

Members who volunteered to be greeters will be contacted and rotated through the meetings, two greeters per meeting. Ina Ramirez will print a couple of 3x5 laminated cards with tips on being a greeter.

Board members were asked to review their job descriptions and ensure they are accurate and up to date.

1st VP for Special Events – Elaine Staller. The guild mini-retreat will be coming up March 24-25; Dea Jae Shore will take signups at the next meeting. Linda Kirk will speak about Winter Retreat at next meeting. Carol Bryant will speak about the quilt show. The show committee will meet immediately after the guild meeting.

2nd VP for Information – Ina Ramirez. The new fabric and board member attendance policies will be printed in the newsletter.

3rd VP for Programs – Janet Miller.

- * Upcoming activities were discussed. Nancy Kansier will be teaching in January, which will be the 2017 Eleanor Wright grant workshop. There are still openings for both Friday and Saturday classes. An email blast will be sent to let members know they can still sign up.
- * There are 5 tables left for the February meeting garage sale.
- * A paint chip challenge will be introduced at the January meeting.

4th VP for Services – Letty Zavala. Discussed replacing the signage used at the guild tables and will obtain a sample plastic dowel cap that might work to clip signs onto. New dowels and bases are needed also.

Secretary – Carolyn Komada. There was one phone call to the guild phone from a person who wanted to donate fabric to the guild.

Treasurer – Cindy Shutt. Financials have been checked and approved.

Parliamentarian – Sylvia Jolet. Sylvia encouraged the board to keep an eye out for possible candidates for future boards.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:39 pm.

Respectfully submitted by Carolyn Komada, Secretary

Guild Block Exchange

Join us for a four patch of Christmas fabric exchange. We will make 2-1/2 squares of light and dark Christmas fabrics, sew them together into a four patch. You will end up with a 4 - 1/2 inch square.

Put them in a ziplock bag with your name, phone number, and number of squares.

Bring them to the next meeting and give them to Shirley Carter at her garage sale table. She will sort them out and return the same number of squares, at the next meeting.

Questions? Please call Shirley Carter at 210-452-3801, or email Shirley.carter9243@gmail.com

NEW MEMBER MENTORS

Joining a new group takes a lot of courage. A mentor can make one feel part of the group. The assignment would be for 3-6 months. Sitting with the new member is the initial step, but you also would need to introduce new member to others, explore interests and just be a friend. If you attend most meeting and can do this, please contact Kitty Janiga, Sandra Lowell or Lani Nunley. Please email Kitty at kittyandernie@earthlink.net or call her at 210-710-1909

- Kitty Janiga - phone 210-710-1909 or
- email: kittyandernie@earthlink.net

Member Nanette Cook from Lavernia doesn't always get into town for Guild and is selling an almost new, barely used Embroidery unit for a Husqvarna Designer I that uses the floppy discs for $250. She is also offering digitized patterns with floppy discs, rayon threads mostly Anton and Maderia, and several hoops. If interested call her @ 830-779-2160, or email lcnccook@msn.com.

Mini Retreat

Spring mini retreat will be March 24 & 25 at St. Andrew Presbyterian Church. Friday we start at noon and go to 9:00 pm.
